London Castle May 30th 1806

The King is extremely sorry to find that Mrs Campbell is under the necessity on account of the state of her health of resigning the situation of Sub Governour to the Prince of Wales for which she has always appeared to him to be in every respect eminently qualified. The King has not any person in his eye whom he could wish to recommend for that situation, and therefore consents to the Prince of Wales's nomination of Miss Guath whom, from her private character, His Majesty considers a safe person to be about the Prince of Wales.
