

AA
Lord Grenville to H.M.

49574-5

Downing St. June 2. 1806.

Lord Grenville has the honour humbly to submit for Your Majesty's Royal signature the Warrant for paying the Establishment of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte on the footing settled by Your Majesty, with the addition of one thousand pounds p.
ann. which Lord Grenville has taken the liberty to add as a provision for unforeseen unproven charges. If Your Majesty should on consideration deem it proper to make any further addition, it may of course be done at any time that Your Majesty shall be graciously pleased so to order it, but it appeared very desirable that no time should be lost in carrying into effect the orders with which Your Majesty was pleased to charge Lord Grenville.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has commanded Lord Grenville humbly humbly to submit to your Majesty a letter which His Royal Highness has received from Miss Gatch, declining the situation which your Majesty had been graciously pleased to empower His Royal Highness to offer to her. The Prince is still anxious that she may accept the appointment, in which she had been destined by the former's opinion both of your Majesty, and the Prince - and His Royal Highness thinks that if your Majesty were graciously pleased to intimate a wish to that effect thro' General Gatch, that might probably induce her to accept it. Should that not not to the case, and shews Your Majesty not have any other person immediately in view for the situation His Royal Highness would humbly desire that the decision might be postponed until he shall be enabled to submit to Your Majesty His further wishes on a subject so interesting to Him.

Lord Grenville is under the necessity of intreating Your Majesty's gracious permission to keep his House this week, as he is told by his Surgeon that his doing so is absolutely necessary to his being able to attend his duty in Parliament next week.
