My Dear Father

The Queen has been so good as to write me to stay here till after your fête, this being the case, I thought it better to write to you myself, to obtain your permission. I am very comfortable here, & treated with so much kindness, that unless you have any objection I shall be very glad to stay.
Should you not have time to answer that yourself, will you desire some of your gentlemen, as it depends entirely by report your Honour what I am to do. ^{Prayer} I conclude

I must return you my best thanks for your permitting me to go to Montreuil where I was very much amused.

I shall long to see you again

I believe me

My dear Father
