My dearest Father -

Altho' you shall I do not think but I must think of delaying even till then, entering into an unpleasant subject; & thus parts of my family have probably before this informed you as I trust he would be glad to leave effectually its own self-appointing I venture for this once, to leave a delicate subject, to your discretion most earnestly for my sake that you do it well, well, if it were well again - Throwing myself upon your kindness, in granting my request as well as for entering into my feelings I will conclude being ever

My dearest Father

Dear Mr. [unclear]

With love & most pleasure & delight
