Sunday
Sir

London
[Jan. 17 1813]

Since I had the honor of addressing your Royal Highness last night it has occurred to me that you might perceive upon your Majesty's command ship that night to accept this night situation till another opportunity can be found. For really it would be inopportune for me to go so many days without one of 'em.

may make so far about it & the more quietly this can be managed, the better for all parties, as for procuring one like Miss Knight's, I never can hope to do it, a set of Her superior endowments, approved of by your Royal Highness, & Her Majesty, & beloved by the Princess Charlotte, such another being in not to be found - Miss Knight's introduction
 I must presume may that I wish it possible that Her Majesty in a months time may regard she has not commanded Her Majesty's situation. Miss Knight your return, being at 10 o'clock yesterday a few days ~~before~~ per from Lady Aylesbury's Papers, & as it is impossible for me to Rush of any body else for some days perhaps I will & something I may obtain the sum of of my wishes. I must beg your Royal Highness will excuse this scrawl

Let Jane go in last with her two boys right up to Church & have not time to write now again -

Have the Nurse to remain your loyal Highness most faithful Man, but
