

Copy [9. Enclosure]

49801

My dear Mother

I am sorry in being able to convey anything that will give you pleasure I do not therefore delay telling you that I had the Prince yesterday
 by whose desire
 I write this to tell you he has permitted
 my seeing you here, in consequence of his recent affliction
 that he may find
 both the day & hour

I shall ever be most affectionately attached to the memory of your
dear mother who is most convenient
to me & to you
at the present moment - it may be some comfort to you - I shall be very happy if it proves - This pencil is entirely unconnected with any thing she is writing from the present work -
I trust your father, but that as well may be expected to be the same

My dear mother

Ever your affectionate

daughter

