Should we they deem it better to intrude myself upon you for a few moments to return you my affectionate & best thanks for your having kindly permitted me the satisfaction of the visit I so much wished - I was also particularly instructed by Miss Mearns, before her departure, to say her duty, & most respectful acknowledgments for her indulgence, to her, at your seat - I could not therefore longer delay the gratification of doing what my feelings dictated & as they are always so ready to acknowledge - Believe me dear

Your very aff. friend
Edw. Pitt Rivers
