My dear Mr. Lovell I have been thanks to return you for your kind letter of I am not surprised after all that passed yesterday that you had a bad night, as I think I can judge by my own feels what yours
 much more deeply concerned in what passed in my room from the situation of the parties than I am - as far as regards myself nothing shall ever transpire from me - Your letter however kind and flattering in wishing to have my approbation of your conduct the prospect of it is of so delicate a nature that all I can say is that of your

a situation that it was your Duty to reveal the particulars
to your father without loss of time - than I feel confident ful consequences so you have told the whole truth leaving nothing blind & that you felt yourself thrown into such
a situation that it was your
you will be supported under this most heavy most severe & unexampled trial - I trust the Prince's kindness in this occasion will be so forcibly engraven on your mind as to lead you have forward never to act with any concealment & know that you are come to years of desertion you never will be drawn in to forget what is due to your Rank & station in life as well as your duty towards your Father & the Country and as you say you feel he is true nearly your chief & only Parent for God sake look up to him as your only adviser & protector don't fancy for the future that people are to misrepresent you to him, let your

to him upon every occasion & that done

you can have nothing to fear
The Princess delicacy of conduct
for many years past ought to satisfy you that he will
to consider your feelings as a child - As the conversation can be more painful than what I intended yesterday I do not hesitate once more employing you to consider well if there is any one thing
appear to you left unresolv'd as it will be wholly improper for the P to extricate you out of any difficulty should he not be apprized of every circumstance - It is impossible to say how much I love

Thought of you & do feel for you & cheer heart truly & deeply in the work world & disliking situation you are pleased and I may venture to say one circumstance brought out are others & I am glad by your Dear Charlotte it may all turn out for your future advantage & comfort - You have much to thank Providence for & hope you are as sensible of His Blessings as I am for yours - Dear God bless you
