

[? 1815]

I have received your kind letter forwarded by your brother and in answer to inform you that I have been informed by your father that you have been married to Miss [?] I am glad to hear of your happiness and hope you will continue to be so. I am ever your affectionate father to be forwarded - The consequence of your communication of your intention of leaving the Prince of Wales some days before his departure was to inform you of some circumstances which may influence your plans relative to your departure from the continent in ignorance of what your arrival in England.

The entire discovery of a conspiracy
- of which you must be aware - that I mean has to be made - which the Prince has to have been with this kind of suspicion in this respect will render our meeting at present impossible - but as soon as this country our intelligence should be left depending then even your most thorough hints which will be most important to your own feelings under these unfortunate circumstances, and the to punish as the Law directs, as the Law directs at all courts in your jurisdiction of returning to England?

I can add no more as the Prisoner is subject of the Law I shall conclude by saying I am

Very Dear Madam
I am ever affectionately
Yours
