Princess Augusta feels as certain of the Affection Sir Benjamin Bloom field has expressed for the Prince Regent that she cannot simply address these professions to him, & hopes in all he is bound as to let her have a particular account of her Dear Brother, whose kind ref to her has always been so invariable, that she feels necessary some of her talents as well as her by Affection her very dearly wish must be supplied, with the event which appears her own to be ready. Princess Sophia as well as Princess Augusta by their most Affectionate Love to the Prince Regent and assure their disproof a mixture of Politeness that they do not write to him —
