

50101

I all times afford me pleasure to comply with your requests, when I am at liberty & when it may be in my power so to do.

This is all that ever passed, and upon this alone Mr. Storkie founds his claim which he urges in so improper and in so importunate a manner.

I feel very grateful for the very gracious & condescending notice his Royal Highness has honored me and my Family with through you; and I now most earnestly request of you to present my most dutiful thanks to his Royal Highness - with my best wishes that his intended tour into the North may contribute to his comfort and re-establish his health.

I am glad to find that in the absence of his Royal Highness you intend to visit your old friend in Jersey.

Have the goodness to remember me very kindly to him, & believe me

Dear Sir

Yours very truly

J. Sarony.
