

A. M. to Lord Grantham

Dec. 4 1782

5082

I shall be glad to find the Preliminary Articles ready this Day; whatever Alterations in the proposals made by Mr. de Keyserling Lord Grantham can get to our Advantage, will undoubtedly be very serviceable and what I also value will do him personal credit.

When Lord Grantham mentions that the Lord of Wickham and Lord Keppel dissent from the Opinion of receiving Guadeloupe in lieu of Gibraltar, I thought Gen. Conway would have of Course sided with them.
