My dear Brother

I am sure that it will give you pleasure to hear that we landed last Night a little after nine o'Clock. Adolphus is here he is grown much larger since he left England and having let his Hair grow as long as Ernest's was it has altered his appearance very much.

The Dress of the Country people strikes me very much all the lower Class of Women have Caps made of Silk and Silver and very odd shaped Hats. We are lodged at what is called

The Admiralty and are to leave this place tomorrow Morning early.

The Prince desires me to present his Compliments to you and express his regret at not having found you at home and that I will acquaint ^{you} he was twice at Carlton House to take leave of you.
My Love to little Charlotte. Believe me my dearest Brother

Your ever affectionate Sister
