Duchess of Württemberg

Sir

We have been here about a Week but I have been so unwell with a Cough that I could not sooner have the honour of writing to Your Majesty.
I left Louisbourg with regret our weather being delightful till the last Morning, and have been much annoyed with going out of an Evening to catch Loaves, we spared many of their lives to the great delight of Paul and Trinitte, who are my constant Companions during the Dukes absence. He returned Yesterday from his hunting party to my great Joy.

I know that his travelling about the Duchy is a very necessary thing and has been neglected for many years by the late Duke however I always rejoice when he comes home and I must say he appears on every occasion to have the same sentiments which makes me truly happy.

I hope that Your Majesties bathing will have strengthened you for the winter and I think Admiral Nelson will prove a most efficacious remedy against the Bile.

I am very grateful to the Almighty for the Success Your Majesties Arms have again met with in Ireland

I trust that there will be no more attempts at mischief. I feel easy about every thing which regards your Kingdom as I am convinced that God will never abandon your Majesty who have ever put your trust in his alone.

I am very uneasy about Amelia poor dear little Angel she has suffered sadly and I fear when once she begins to move will find herself much weakened by her tedious confinement.

The Duke presents his humble duty to your Majesty and I have the honour to be with the greatest
