My dearest Brother

You will I am sure believe that I was delighted to hear from Mrs Tyrwhit that you are quite recovered from your cold fall, and that dear little Charlotte improves very much: Lady Esqui has sent me her best in word which at this moment hangs over my writing table, I long to see the original again, she appears to be your very image; and is a great favourite with the whole family The Queen and my Sisters are very often so good as to indulge me with charming accounts of her.

I am highly delighted with the assurances Mr Tyrwhit gives me of the continuance of your regard and friendship my dear Brother, this is a great comfort to one who have been so many years parted from my family and I think I deserve your kindness a little from my affection for you - I hope you received long ago my thanks for the beautiful locket with my little Nieces Hair it is a very favourite ornament of mine as being your gift and the little Angels Hair, it gave me great pleasure and is very much admired. I regret that Mr Tyrwhitt being in a hurry to proceed on his journey prevents my shewing him all the attentions that I should wish to shew fell those who are in your family.

At this moment we are all anxious for to hear what will be concluded at Amiens, as it must in some degree have great effect on the situation of Germany. Every body is anxious to know how far the Indemnifications will be carried and to receive some compensation for

1781
The severe losses that this cruel war has brought on us all. None of the Princes have suffered more than the Duke whose Duchy was nearly a Year in the Hands of the French and was obliged to pay such heavy contributions.

I am sure my dear Brother that You would have been very much hurt could You have known all we underwent during that time but I will not take up Your time with such an unpleasant Subject — May I beg my dear

51672

Brother that you will do me the favour to accept of the trifle which accompanies this and let it put you sometimes in mind of me. I will now only add that the Duke begs to be remembered to you and that I remain with great regard and affection

My dear Brother

Your affectionate
Sister and Friend

Charlotte.
