My dear Brother

It is so long since I have been indulged with a line from you that I should hardly have ventured to write had I not read in the Newspapers that this is the day fixed on for Princeps Charlottes wedding. Was I to remain silent it would be doing injustice to my feelings which lead me ever to think of you dear Brother with the purest Affection, this being the case I must acknowledge that I regret that it was not from yourself, or from my Niece that I heard of this event; however this can never make any alteration in my sentiments I therefore beg of you dear Brother to accept of my congratulations and be convinced of the sincere wishes I form for your happiness and that of your amiable Daughter.

I trust that you will never quite forget a Sister who loves you and remains with steady Affection My dearest Brother

Your most Affectionate Sister and sincere Friend

Charlotte

The King desires me to present his Compliments to you.
