Peworth. July. 10. 1752

Sir

I am very sorry it has so happen'd that I could not have the honour & pleasure of seeing you here, which I had much flatter'd myself I should: I hope you are persuaded that you can go no where, & make people more happy by your visit, than you would have made the inhabitants of Peworth, had it suited with your conveniency.

I had a letter from Guiddott to tell me that Mr Willbroham & Mr Booth were going to alter the opinion upon the Dinmouth case, pursuant to your directions, which I am very glad of; having an implicit faith in your judgement. He likewise writes me word that the matter of the Release from our Trust affair are almost perfected & ready to be executed; I go to London in two days time, & shall not fail to spur him on, & I shall look upon that to be a good business done for us all.

I hope you will have good health, much pleasure, & many grows in your Northern journey. Lady Egremont assures you of her respects & I am with the truest regard

Sir your most obedient & most

Faithfull humble servant Egremont
