Sir,

Give me ^{leave} to Rejoice with you which I do most sincerely on your Recovery, and on your happy Reconciliation.

Mr. Vincent carries the King's letters from me, to ask his Approbation for a further plan of Education for Mrs. Childers. I wish to have a Lady about Sophia to be Responsible to me for her publick, and private behaviour, and to keep her clear of the Dutchess but at Meals, and in the Evening Society, I hope the King will allow me to send William to a University. The Evil impressions given to them of every body, on every subject, and principally of myself, and the very improper manner the Dutchess talks of me to them, and the whole World, makes this step absolutely necessary, ^{But} if she will leave them alone from this time, and behave more respectfully to me in Publick, which ~~has~~ been most grossly indecent of late; I will still suffer her to remain on in my house

May I desire You Sir to keep these particulars to Yourself, as she often tells me of things that come from You, which indeed I never have writ, and it is very improper of her to dare to convey messages to You, which I have some reason to believe, she does. I wish this plan to be fixed before I return.
I very much look up to the pleasure of being a little with You Sir. I hope You will allow Mr. Vincent to wait upon You.

I have the honor to be Sir, Your humble Servant and Uncle.
