Sir, I can not give any perfect Information to your Majesty of what will be the Event of your Proposal; when I went from St James yesterday I found the Duke of Bedford at the House & took Him with Ld H & Mr G into my Room there where He was informed by each of what had pass'd between your Majesty & them. He was much Hurt with what had pass'd relative to the Change, & was very disinclin'd, to take a part in Government again. But on my representing a cool & deliberate Consideration as properest for the Subject, an Appointment was made at Bedford House in the Evening of I was asked to make one which I thought proper to agree to.

A meeting was had accordingly of I think every ^{thing} that passed, passed in temper of fair consultation; but before any thing explicit was agreed, Gr. Majesty was called away Mr. G. & broke up the Meeting; which was adj^d till this Morn: at 10 o'clk where I was going when I received your M^{ty}'s Commands.

Whatever they resolve will come immediately from them to your Majesty, as I have taken no part
